The following disciplines (economics, education, English, French, German, history and political science, philosophy, psychology, Russian, sociology/anthropology, Spanish and speech and media studies) do not offer a graduate degree. However, the Departments of Economics, English and History and Political Science have entered into cooperative agreements with the corresponding departments of the University of Missouri-St. Louis to offer a Master of Arts in Economics, in English and in History. The agreements permit students to take a maximum of 12 semester hours on the UMR campus.

Some of the upper division courses may be used, where pertinent, for credit toward other graduate degrees. Be sure to check the use of these courses with your major professor before you add these courses to your schedule.
