DSCC Chair

This course explores the history of modern architecture and the dialog between architecture and technology, society, economics, politics and culture by using Chicago as text. Students will live and learn in the city itself and tour many historic and contemporary architectural and other sites. This is an immersive urban architectural and cultural experience.

Prerequisites

History 1200 or History 1300 or History 1310 or instructor permission.

Field Trip
Statement

This course is on site in Chicago from May 16-27 2016. Total costs are still to be determined. Registration will be through Continuing and Distance education.

Credit Hours	LEC: 3.0	LAB: 0	IND: 0	RSD: 0
Total: 3.0

Justification for new course:

There is no better city on earth to study the architecture of the last 160 years than Chicago. By living downtown and through multiple tours to historic and contemporary architectural and other sites, students will come away with a better understanding not only of architectural history, but of the history of modern America and of the complex interplay between architecture and modern society. Connections with Chicago area academic colleagues and architectural firms are being explored.
